“ Well today I learned that another guy never knowing his name but always cordial and respected died this past week. Never knew his name but he always greeted me and my family at Mattingly's on Sunday Morning breakfast. Names mean nothing but his action spoke for his character. From the appearance he was sgruffy, not well dressed but clothes do not make the person and gruffness was not the fact. . He was missed today but not forgotten. His name was "Joe Cambell" Totally unexpected. Just saw him last Sunday not realizing that would be the last time seeing him to say "HELLO". The group of men met almost every Sunday and associated with other patrons by just saying "Hello". RIP Joe

“ I met Joe almost 30 years ago. Joe was in his mid 20's then and he was one of the funniest people I had ever met. Joe was also one of the most intimidating men I had ever met. I owe a huge part of the only skill I have in life to Smokey Joe, making pizzas very fast!!! Joe was a delivery guy back then and he was a delivery guy that wanted his orders prepared asap and believe me you were gonna make his orders fast or else. LOL The most important thing to say about Smokey Joe is that everyday he was on this earth his heart grew bigger and kinder!!! Joe was one of the very few men that never backed down from anything. Since I was a kid I never once saw Joe intimidated by anything or anybody. What a rare gift. The courage to stand up for yourself like a man and a heart way bigger than most could ever dream of. It was Joe's unwillingness to back down that started me down a path of redemption and I thank God everyday for it. To family and for all of you that knew Joe, I am very sorry for your loss. He will be remembered!!!
